Weekly Notice – January 22, 2010

Greetings Woodbury Parents:

We are finishing a positive week at Woodbury Elementary School. Last Friday, January 15, was our first ski/ winter activity date at Burke Mountain and Kingdom Trails. Children, staff, parents and community volunteers enjoyed a fun and positive outdoor experience. We are grateful to our parent group for providing the funds for this worthwhile winter activity and look forward to two more such outings on January 29 and February 12.

As a follow up to last week's playground challenges I met with our students on Tuesday to redefine physical boundaries for recess play and to review expectations for behavior at recess. I am happy to report that children have cooperated well in following the behavioral expectations which were outlined. Safety is always our focus, along with respectful and responsible behavior for all children.

Children were treated to a visit from several Woodbury Volunteer Fire Department members on Tuesday morning. The firefighters provided the children with a lesson on fire safety, complete with print materials and plastic fire helmets for all! Following the lesson, kids were given a close up look at two fire and emergency response vehicles. They were also shown several examples of equipment used. This type of community participation is highly valued by all of us at the school, and we are thankful for the information these volunteers provided for our children.

Sincerely,

Sharon Fortune, Principal
