Weekly Notice – Friday, April 30, 2010

Dear Woodbury Parents:

I hope you have all recovered from our “surprise” April 28 snowstorm! Somehow, I knew that our spring had just been too lovely and that winter wasn’t quite over yet. Because of the Wednesday snow day this week, our last school day will be Thursday, June 17th. I will let you know as soon as I know the date of our 6th grade graduation.

Our all school walk, which was cancelled this Wednesday due to the snow day, will be held this coming Wednesday, May 5 from 12:00-12:30. Please be sure your child has sneakers or comfortable walking shoes in order to participate in this activity.

Our Brass Bell disappeared during the vacation week. If you have any inkling of where that might be, please let me know. We miss using our bell at the end of recess each day.

Our 4-6 drama performance is the evening of May 13. Prior to the play, the PTO will be sponsoring a chicken dinner. Please remember our green up/spruce up activities scheduled here on Saturday, May 1 beginning at 9:00 am.

Enjoy the warm weather predicted for this weekend.

Sincerely,

Sharon Fortune, Principal
